September 29, 2014

Dear Sabrient Subscriber,

Because of the growing demand for our research in the institutional market, we have decided to phase out our individual investor web-based research products and services effective December 31, 2014.

We appreciate your loyalty over the years, and we will direct you (below) to some websites that will continue to offer some of our retail products.

If you are a financial advisor, please contact us at support@sabrient.com about our professional investment products.

How the Phase-out Will Work

Annual Subscriptions

Effective immediately, we will no longer accept subscriptions.

If you have a current annual subscription, it will continue through its expiration date or until December 31, 2014, whichever is earlier.

If your annual subscription expires after December 31, 2014, you will receive a prorated refund for the remaining of your annual subscription.

Monthly Subscriptions

All monthly subscriptions will continue through December 31, 2014, unless you choose to cancel before that date.

Earnings Busters Quarterly and Earnings Busters 26 Portfolios. These will cease publication on December 31, 2014, but an ETF based on the same methodology will be available after the first of the year. We will post more information on our website at the time the ETF is launched.

Investor’s Hedge Portfolios. The Investor’s Hedge Portfolio will cease publication on December 31, 2014,

Newsletters and Blogs

Sector Detector will continue to be written by Scott Martindale and published on the Sabrient website at www.sabrientsystems.com, and will be emailed to Sector Detector subscribers. If you are not on the Sector Detector email list, you can sign up on the Sabrient home page: http://www.sabrient.com/individuals/

What the Market Wants will no longer be published so that David Brown can focus his attention on our institutional relationships and model portfolios.

Sabrient Website. Our individual investor website at www.sabrient.com/individuals will remain open through December 31, 2014.

After that, please check out our main website at www.sabrientsystems.com where we will post information about any new developments of interest to individual investors, such as the launch of new UITs and ETFs

Future Availability of Sabrient’s Individual Investor Tools

Some of the tools in the current Sabrient subscriptions will be available elsewhere.

- Stock ratings reports and some Top 10 Stock Lists are available to customers of Capital One ShareBuilder and Scotia iTrade (in Canada).
- ETF ratings reports are available to customers of Fidelity, along with certain ETF strategies.
- Baker’s Dozen Portfolio. The annual Sabrient Baker’s Dozen portfolio will continue as a Unit Investment Trust (UIT) offered through First Trust Portfolios; it will not be offered by Sabrient in the future as a retail product.

Individual investors may invest in the 2015 Sabrient Baker’s Dozen UIT, sponsored by First Trust, or in any Sabrient UIT through their brokers. Information about the Sabrient UITs, as well as their performance, appears on the First Trust website (www.ftportfolios.com) and on the Sabrient institutional website (www.sabrientsystems.com).

The 2015 Baker’s Dozen report will be published a week or so after the launch of the Sabrient Baker’s Dozen 2015 UIT, which will be in mid-January 2015; the actual date of the launch is as yet undetermined. The report may be purchased for $199, through Sabrient.

If you have any questions that are not answered above, please send an email to support@sabrient.com. We will try to answer emails within 24 hours.

Sincerely,

The Sabrient Support Team
